Archdeacon Ruth Worsley announced as next Bishop of Taunton

The Venerable Ruth Worsley is to be the next Bishop of Taunton in the Diocese of Bath and Wells. Ruth is currently Archdeacon of Wilts in the neighbouring Diocese of Salisbury, a position she has held since January 2013.

Archdeacon Ruth is “delighted to be heading to Somerset” as the 13th Bishop of Taunton.

After her ordination in 1996, Ruth served for 14 years as a parish priest in Nottingham in one of the poorest areas in the Diocese of Southwell and Nottingham. During this time she served as an Area Dean and was made Dean of Women’s Ministry for the diocese in 2007. In 2010 she took on the role of Parish Development Adviser in the Diocese of Southwark, based in Bermondsey. In 2013 she swapped inner-city life for Wiltshire.

Ruth said, “I am surprised and amused to be chosen as the next Bishop of Taunton as I grew up in a non-conformist church where women held no roles of leadership. I am delighted to be heading to Somerset to join the diocesan team in this wonderful part of the world, moving ‘next door’ as it were. It will be a great privilege to meet and serve everyone who lives and works in the county.

“In a diocese with such a mix of rural and more urban parishes, each I’m sure with its own distinct personality, I’m really keen to experience how our churches and the diocese are meeting those different needs. And how we can engage in the process of transformation, one which changes lives, both our own and others, and then influences the way in which we are ‘Church’ and brings about a renewed sense of community.”

Reflecting on the atrocities in Tunisia, Ruth added, “In the light of the pain of the past few weeks we can all see the need to build bridges and forge relationships which will heal hurt, stand firm in the face of evil, and ensure that God’s compassionate love and justice are expressed in our lives.”

Ruth’s first engagement as Bishop of Taunton-designate was a tour of the YMCA’s George Williams Centre at Bridgwater, which supports local young people without a safe place to stay by providing accommodation, advice and counselling as well as encouraging the wellbeing of the local community with everyday opportunities to get active. Ruth then travelled to Churchfield Primary School, a Church of England Academy in Highbridge to meet school children and staff.

Welcoming Ruth, the Rt Revd Peter Hancock, Bishop of Bath and Wells said, “I am delighted by this appointment. Ruth is going to bring a wealth of experience in town and country to her new role as Bishop of Taunton. I look forward to sharing in the service of Christ with her and know our parishes, schools, chaplaincies and all our communities will benefit from the gifts she brings.

“The mission of the Church will be greatly enhanced through Ruth’s contribution to the leadership of the diocese as together we seek God’s vision for the people and places of Somerset.”

Ruth will be ordained and consecrated as a Bishop by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Justin Welby in London this autumn. She will then be officially installed as Bishop of Taunton in Wells Cathedral later this year. Ruth will live in Wells and work from the Bishops’ Office at the Bishop’s Palace in Wells, alongside Bishop Peter Hancock.

From the Rectory

My last piece for Village News comes with so many thank yous: but if I try to mention individuals, I will inevitably miss out some one whom I have deeply valued so just THANK YOU. You made me feel very much at home from day 1 and I have enjoyed my time here immensely. Marrying couples, officiating at funerals, welcoming people into the faith at baptisms, singing “Away in a Manger” in the light of a sea of Christingle candles has been a huge privilege on each occasion. I have been sustained by singing mad action songs for children at one end of the age spectrum and taking communion to people in their homes at the other end; very different activities but both done with others whose fellowship I have so much appreciated. And the undergirding backdrop of all this, what has been the source of the “even joy” that Charles Wesley speaks of in one of his great hymns, has been the week by week fellowship enjoyed Sunday by Sunday with those “faithful” who come rain or shine, to big services and little service alike, to hear again the words of scripture, to bring before God their joys and sorrows, their hopes and fears, to pray for the welfare of the world in which we live, and to obey the command of Jesus to remember him with one another in the breaking of bread and the sharing of wine: all food for our life’s journey. I will go to Llandrindod Wells very grateful for my time here on the very edge of Somerset and as I break the bread and bless the wine in places and with people as yet unknown and sing the hymns I have sung here, I will think of you, and in St Paul’s words, “thank my God in my every remembrance of you”.

From the Organ Bench – August 2015

A hundred years ago, one of the best-known song-writers of the years of the First World War was Frederick Weatherly (1848-1929) who is perhaps most famous for Roses of Picardy. But he also wrote Danny Boy to fit a tune from Northern Ireland, which we know as the Londonderry Air but which many Ulster people prefer to call ‘Tune from County Derry’.

The tune was first published in a collection by George Petrie in the 1850s, and he had been sent it by Miss Jane Ross of Limavady. Typically of folk-tunes, no-one can agree on how and when it was first heard, or whether it was played on the pipes, fiddle, tin whistle or Irish harp. But Danny Boy ensured its wide circulation, and it wasn’t long before an inspired hymn-writer wrote words to it which have made it universally loved in churches – I cannot tell how he, whom angels worship, Should set his love upon the sons of men. (This of course means the whole of mankind, not just the male half of the population!)

William Young Fullerton (1857-1932) also hailed from Northern Ireland, and he was a Baptist minister who was a prominent figure in the Baptist Missionary Society. He edited several hymnals, but it’s this one terrific hymn for which he is remembered. Each verse starts quietly and wonderingly ‘I cannot tell....’ but then halfway through, as the tune rises, the answer comes: ‘But this I know....’

I have seen a pedantic objection that having spoken of Jesus’s birth and suffering, the hymn doesn’t mention Easter. But it’s the risen Christ who ‘heals the broken-hearted, And stays our sin, and calms our lurking fear’: and the joy of the Resurrection shines through in every verse.

In all my years as an organist I have maintained that everyone who loves music can sing – even if they think they can’t. And I’m certain that William Fullerton thought so too. He managed to exploit the full range of this glorious tune – from a low B flat to a ringing top F – and next time we sing this in church I defy you not to finish the third verse at the top of your voice:

*But this I know, all flesh shall see his glory,
And he shall reap the harvest he has sown,
And some glad day his sun shall shine in splendour,
When he the Saviour, Saviour of the world, is known.*

And again, in the final verse – go on, give it your all, as did William Fullerton and the unknown Northern Irish hero or heroine who gave us the Londonderry Air:

*But this I know, the skies will thrill with rapture,
And myriad, myriad human voices sing,
And earth to heaven, and heaven to earth, will answer:
‘At last the Saviour, Saviour of the world, is King!’*

The Church – St Stephen's And St John's

Many thanks to everyone for the efforts that went into making the Summer Fair such fun – particular thanks to Veronica for organizing the children's games, to Claude, Joe and Ruth for the skittles, to Helen's face-painting team and to Dange and his team of tent-erectors. We certainly had perfect weather for the job.

St. John's clean-up: Saturday, 26th September. Please come and help tidy up St John's inside and out – even if you can't spare very long. Coffee + will be provided, and we shall aim to start at 10 am.

Harvest Sunday, October 4th. Thanksgiving Service will be at 10.30 am in St Stephen's Church. All help with decoration warmly welcomed from 10 o'clock onwards on Saturday 3rd. The Harvest Supper will be at 5.30-for-6 that evening, probably in the Village Hall (Though it may possibly be at Higher Stavordale Farm – to be confirmed. Watch this space in the next Village News)

Many thanks to Mrs Mavis Thomas for her generous contribution to the Newsletter Fund. Her kind donations over many years have been much appreciated. It is now over 30 years since the Reverend Ken Thomas retired from the Benefice and they moved to live in Gillingham. Before that, he had been our Rector since 1967. Mavis has continued to support us all that time, and she regularly comes to St Stephen's with flowers for his stone by the South door.

Welcome to two new families who have recently moved into Charlton Musgrove: Teleri and Robin Begg to Rectory Farmhouse, and Mary and Len Clayhaven and their dogs. We hope they will be happy and find new friends among us.

Don't forget Sunday, 23rd August. Jo's last service in the Benefice will be at St Lawrence's Church Cucklington at 11 am with lunch afterwards in the Arthur Morison Memorial Hall. It will be our chance to show our appreciation for the last five years while she has been our Rector. Her encouragement and enthusiasm has helped us to grow in so many ways. Her initiatives, Growing Faith and Growing Together, the children's worship and family services, have expanded the congregations, and her preaching has been hugely appreciated. After 25 years, the "United Benefice" is beginning to become more truly united as we move around to worship together in all the lovely churches. We shall miss Jo and Adrian, and thank her for all her work here.

Delivering this Village News. If anyone feels that they could deliver a few copies to neighbours, please let Biddy know. At the moment 6 people cover all the houses in the Village, but we are hoping to reorganize the rounds to make it less of a chore. ### Bayford outing 7th July to Exmouth

Once again Maureen Parsons organised a lovely trip to Exmouth where we enjoyed a two hour boat trip which included a delicious ploughman's lunch.

The weather was warm (& windy) and we spent a short time in Exmouth before returning home.

Thank you so much for looking after us so well!

Many thanks to:- Mavis Thomas, Paul White & Geoff Syme for their generous Donations & reminder to other advertisers who have yet to donate this year that Jeremy Sellick would love to hear from them!

We have had incidences of dog walkers very kindly bagging their poo but then sadly dropping the bag rather than taking it home and binning it.

- a. There are cattle in the fields and polythene bags if eaten are not good for them.
- b. It is a filthy habit!
